Ah, a breath of fresh air...

Weekend of spring abnormal

by Dana Eastridge

Mother Nature gave Eastern students the opportunity to break out shorts and light jackets last weekend by granting a bonus of three spring-like days.

The unseasonably warm weather was caused by "a very strong high pressure system just passing over," Richard Wise, geology/geography instructor said Sunday.

"It's a pacific high that started in the northwest last week," he added.

The system gained strength during the week, picking up warm air over the desert, and reached central Illinois this weekend, he said.

Temperatures for the past two days have been 25 degrees above normal, Wise said. Champaign's high temperature was 63 Saturday, "and I'm sure it was a few degrees higher here."

However, "I'm sure (temperatures) will go back to normal early in the week," Wise said.

He added that snow fell Sunday in Kansas and Nebraska, signifying the coming end to the warm weather here.

"The 30-day forecast is for normal temperatures and dryer weather than usual," Wise said.

The normal low temperature for February is 22, Wise said. This contrasts with the low of 43 experienced Sunday morning.

Monday's forecast calls for a 30 percent chance of showers and high temperatures in the 50s.

Libyan plane hijacked to Malta

VALLETTA, Malta—Hijackers commandeered a Libyan Arab Airways Boeing 727 with 160 people aboard and forced it to land at this Mediterranean Island's capital Sunday night, airport sources said.

Officials would not comment, even refusing to confirm that the hijacking had occurred.

In London, the radio station London Broadcasting Co. said the hijackers were demanding that the jet be refueled for a flight to an "unknown destination." It said Maltese authorities were saying they would not open negotiations until all of the passengers were freed.

The airport sources reported the jet taxied to a remote area of Luca International Airport and was immediately surrounded by police. They said the runway lights then were turned off.

Police closed all roads leading to the airport and refused to talk with reporters.

'Rights trampled' states Nkomo

BULAWAYO, Zimbabwe—A day after security police detained him for eight hours and seized his passport, opposition leader Joshua Nkomo charged Sunday that the government is "trampling the rights of the people."

"What has happened to me is mild compared to what has happened to other people. Others have simply been shot dead," he said in an interview at his home here.

He vowed to continue his opposition to the Mugabe government, saying his Zimbabwe African People's Union Party is "uncrushable."

Outside, thousands of Nkomo's supporters chanted and sang songs of praise. They pressed against the wire fence encircling the house while private guards kept watch.

Sharon placed into new key post

JERUSALEM—Former Defense Minister Ariel Sharon, driven from his post for failing to prevent the Beirut massacre, was formally reinstated Sunday to a key policy-making role in Lebanon.

Sharon will be able to promote his hardline views when he returns to his post on the committee guiding the Israeli negotiating stance in the troop withdrawal talks with Lebanon. Although he was not formally removed from the committee, his seat had been dependent on his position as defense minister.

Opposition political leaders, already angered that Sharon was allowed to remain in the Cabinet after resigning from the Defense Ministry, immediately denounced Sunday's action.

"It is totally unacceptable," said a statement from the Labor Party that was broadcast over Israel Radio.

The centrist Shinui Party demanded an urgent discussion of the decision in Parliament.

Hundreds butchered in Assam, Moslem women, children killed

NEW DELHI (AP)—Hindu tribesmen wielding hatchets, spears, machetes and old firearms butchered between 600 and 1,000 Moslem villagers for defying an election boycott in violence-torn Assam state, witnesses reported Sunday.

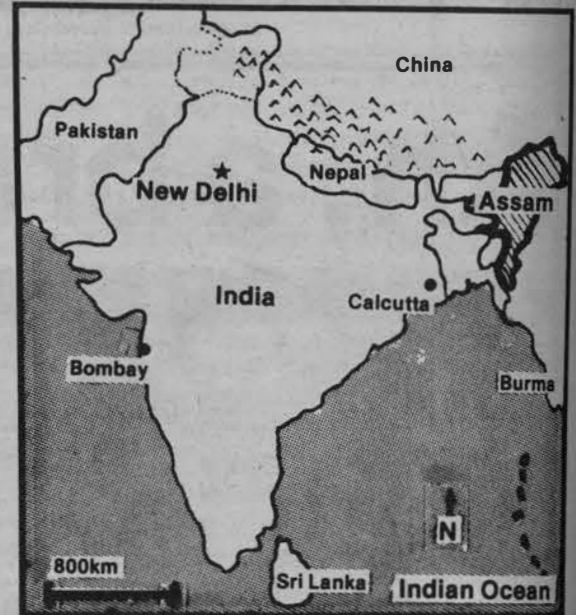

The latest accounts reaching New Delhi from the remote northeastern state said the tribesmen rampaged through 17 villages in the Nellie district of central Assam on Friday, stabbing, shooting and mutilating helpless victims, identified as Moslem settlers from neighboring Bangladesh.

Estimates of the killing varied widely, and foreign journalists are barred from the area. But the death toll from 18 days of political and ethnic violence sparked by the elections will pass 1,000 if authorities confirm even the more moderate estimates of the carnage in the Nellie district and a Feb. 13 massacre in Gohpur, northeastern Assam.

"The victims, mostly women and children, were hacked to death," said one account by Shekhar Gupta, a reporter for the Indian Express news service. He said "frenzied tribal hordes" were responsible.

The government deployed soldiers in the area Sunday to bolster police forces attempting to stop the violence. Prime Minister Indira Gandhi also announced she would tour the state Monday. The prime minister's aids said reporters would not be permitted to accompany Mrs. Gandhi.

Most of the violence stems from a widespread movement among Assam's predominant Hindu population to disenfranchise and expel more than 1 million Moslem settlers who have emigrated since 1961 from Bangladesh, formerly East Pakistan.

Sunday's accounts from the area 450 miles north of Calcutta said the Hindu tribespeople were angry that the Moslem villagers had defied a boycott of the elections.

"We will kill all these foreigners—they have made us foreigners in our own country," news reports from the area quoted the attackers as shouting.

Nigeria breaks rank, lowers price

(AP)—OPEC member Nigeria broke ranks and slashed its price by $5.50 a barrel Sunday, threatening to trigger a price war within the once-mighty cartel over the world's glutted petroleum market.

The cut to $30 a barrel—announced by the African nation's state run radio and monitored in London—came two days after Nigeria's chief competitors for European sales, Britain and Norway, lowered their official North Sea crude prices $3-$3.50, to $30.50 a barrel.

Nigeria's announcement brought new pressure to bear on six Persian Gulf OPEC members, who were meeting in Riyadh, Saudi Arabia, to respond to the British and Norwegian challenge to the cartel's grip on oil prices.

The ministers of the Saudi-led Gulf Coordination Council in Riyadh had no official reaction to Nigeria's announcement, although some reportedly had been expecting it.

In Kuwait, Minister of State Abdul-Aziz Hussein was asked after a Cabinet meeting whether his country planned a cut to match Nigeria's, and said "We will act in such a manner as to preserve our rights."

Bahrain's daily newspaper Akhbar Al-Khaleej charged Nigeria was "contemplating a pullout from OPEC." Other Gulf papers trumpeted an impending "price war" in headlines, and warned against more price cuts by individual members of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries.

AB still altering FY 84 UB budget

by Gary Bray

The Apportionment Board made preliminary changes Thursday in the University Board's Fiscal Year 1984 budget request.

However, Financial Vice President John Cole said the AB has made no final decisions concerning the UB budget.

The AB reduced the UB's proposed lecture budget from $17,695 to $14,545 to "make it more realistic," AB Vice Chairman John Modder said.

UB predicted a lecture income for FY 1984 of $5,475, based on an average attendance of 650 people for Phase I lectures and 475 people for a Phase II lecture. Phase I lectures usually have more expensive speakers.

However, Modder made a motion to change those figures because lecture attendance figures this year did not match figures predicted for next year. Under Modder's changes, income is projected at $2,230.

To make up for this loss in revenue, AB also cut allocations for 1984 expenses. The AB cut $3,000 from the Other Contractual line item, which includes funds for lecturers.

The AB also cut $150 from the Promotion/Printing line item, which will reduce the number of posters used to promote events from 100 to 75. The remaining $95 will be made up through additional student activity fees. However, Cole said there will not be an increase in the student activity fee.

The AB also cut the UB Homecoming budget. Cole said the admission charge for the Homecoming queen coronation could be raised from 50 cents to $1 to create more revenue and reduce the amount of student-fee money required for Homecoming.

He estimated that raising admission for coronation could raise an additional $400 through Homecoming.

The AB also cut $65 from the Communications budget.

Predicted income generated through Communications was increased by $90 because the AB recommended that UB sell an additional 30 copies of EIU Eventsful. Cole said complimentary copies of the calendar will no longer be given to Eastern faculty and administrators.

The $65-cut came from the advertising expenses for the Eventsful. With the suggested increase in sales, the AB was able to cut $155 from the requested student fees for the Communications budget.

The UB's Human Potential budget was tabled for two weeks so the AB could study the budget in-depth, Modder said.

AB will continue deliberations of UB's budget for at least two weeks, and approval of the budget will not come until all line items are amended to meet the AB's approval, Cole said. He added any changes made Thursday could be reconsidered later if necessary.

Blood drive goal set at 1,750 pints

The Red Cross is encouraging Eastern students to "Be the Life Saving Piece," the motto for this year's campus blood drive.

The blood drive starts Monday, with the Red Cross aiming to have 1,750 pints of blood donated at Eastern this week. Last semester students and other donors gave 1,735 pints of blood in the campus drive.

General Blood Drive Chairman Sandy Beard said Monday and Wednesday are scheduled as appointment days for those people who signed up last week.

However, anyone who shows up at the Union Ballroom without an appointment on these days will not be refused.

Tuesday and Thursday are days for prospective donors to walk in without an appointment from 11 a.m. to 4:15 p.m.

Beard said, "People should come early. Don't put it off. That way you don't have to worry about there being a lot of people when you come in."

'Be the life-saving piece' this year

The Red Cross is again asking all able-bodied persons to give one pint and one hour of themselves.

The blood drive goal this spring has been set at 1,750 pints—a goal which could be realized with the help of a few good people and their veins.

Blood drive workers encourage donors to live up to this year's theme and "Be the Life Saving Piece" for people who need blood because of illness or injury. One pint of blood given by one person at Eastern's spring drive could mean the difference between life and death in an emergency.

Although the majority of Eastern students, faculty and staff is physically able to give blood, sign-up for the drive has been poorer this year than in the past. People who do not donate blood have their reasons. But are they good ones? Are they really justifiable and rational?

People who put off donating because they are needle-shy have a lot of company. Many regular donors were once also scared of the prospect of being stuck with a needle so blood could be drawn from their bodies.

But remember, every regular donor today probably suffered first-time jitters before they donated. They overcame their fears, though, and today are members of a select society—a society that gives of itself to help others.

What is your reason for not giving blood?

• "It hurts."

Only for a moment when they stick the needle in. The finger prick to test your blood for iron hurts worse than the actual venipuncture.

• "They don't really need my blood and my donation wouldn't do that much good."

Blood is required by millions of people all year long, and there is never a surplus of blood. One donation could be enough to save a life during a critical operation.

• "I don't get anything out of it, so there is no use in giving."

You do receive something when you give blood. You have the satisfaction of helping your fellow man and knowledge that your blood might save someone's life.

Whatever your excuse is, other donors used to think that, too. What's your excuse, and is it still valid?

Aid advice

Sue McKenna

Director offers advice for filing for financial aid

(Editor's note: The following column is the first in a five-part series dealing with financial aid.)

As a staff member of the Office of Financial Aids for the past 17 years, the question I have heard most frequently is: "How may I apply for financial aid?" My answer is, "It depends on the kind of aid you want."

Many people believe that there is only one kind of financial aid—scholarships. And while it is true there are several programs that award money which does not have to be repaid, there is also financial aid which includes employment and loans.

To obtain financial aid—whatever the kind—you and your parents must complete a financial statement because the assistance administered by Eastern's financial aids office is awarded to students who can prove they have financial need.

The two major grant (means, "gift") programs are the Pell Grant and the Illinois State Scholarship Commission Monetary Grant. If they are the only programs you are interested in receiving, you must complete only one form, the "Application for Federal Student Aid." You pay nothing for having it processed, but you should mail it before June 1 to be certain of being in time for ISSC consideration.

If you want to apply for the two programs above, plus the National Direct Student Loan, Supplemental Education Opportunity Grant, Socio-Economically Disadvantaged Student Scholarship and the College Work-Study Program, you and your family should complete a "Family Financial Statement." You will have to send $6 to American College Testing (ACT) to pay for its processing.

Also, you must send us a completed Eastern financial aid application, signed copies of you and your parents' 1982 income tax return and, if you are totally self-supporting, an affidavit of parental non-support. You should be completing all these forms now.

To apply for a guaranteed loan, you must file a separate application. It is a program different from the others listed and will be discussed in a later column.

Tomorrow: how to apply for financial aid if your father loses his job.

—Sue McKenna is the director of Eastern's Office of Financial Aids.

No guarantees available for blood donors

After working as a volunteer at a few blood drives, I've heard it all. Students with good intentions try to convince others to donate by filling them with half-truths. These people mean well, but tend to mislead would-be donors.

For those of you who have never donated and have heard all sorts of wonderful reasons to donate, I would like to dispel some common myths.

Myth: Donating doesn't hurt.

Fact: No matter what anyone says, there is no way injecting a needle into an arm can be completely painless. You wouldn't be normal if you didn't feel it.

A more correct statement is, "It doesn't hurt as much as you think it will."

Think of how many times you will suffer a paper cut, jam your thumb or stub your toe in the next few months. Those things hurt, but most of us can accept the fact that we will experience our share of these unpleasantities. And besides, the pain felt from a stubbed toe is not caused by an effort to save someone's life.

Myth: You won't faint.

Fact: No one can say that without knowing specific details about you. But by finding out what conditions are likely to make a donor faint, the chances of fainting can be reduced.

If you have not eaten well the day you donate, are feeling a little run down, don't weigh much more than 110 pounds or your medical history hints that you faint easily, then, sure, you will run a higher risk of fainting than someone else.

But all donors are individually supervised so that if someone does faint, a volunteer is right there to make sure he is not hurt. In fact, that volunteer's only job is to escort the donor to a seat and see that he is all right.

Myth: Nothing will go wrong.

Insight/outlook

Denise Skowron

Fact: While every precaution is taken, sometimes there is a complication—a nurse may have difficulty locating a good vein—and, sometimes it is scary and more painful than usual.

But, professional nurses are the only ones who actually collect blood. They are experienced and are trained to handle any complication.

Unfortunately, horror stories about donating blood are often repeated in exaggerated form. Tales of bursting arteries and donor's blood spewing all over the nurses and other donors are not all that uncommon.

There is no guarantee that the first donation will go smoothly—or the second one either, for that matter. But when it comes right down to it, few things in life can be guaranteed.

No one can guarantee that donating blood will not hurt. Sometimes it hurts more than other times. No one can guarantee that you will not faint. Sometimes you may. No one can guarantee that there will be no complications—you never know.

The decision to donate blood is a personal one. Don't let anyone force you into it if you really don't want to. But remember, there is another thing which cannot be guaranteed—there is no guarantee that blood will be available should you or a loved one need it.

—Denise Skowron is Verge editor and a regular columnist for The Daily Eastern News.

Cuban laws

Looking suspicious can get you jailed

by Frank Garvin

Cuban police may jail a citizen for the facial expression he uses, the way he dresses or how he walks down the street because of a law created by dictator Fidel Castro, an Eastern instructor said Sunday.

Luis Clay-Mendez spoke to about 60 people during his lecture "Cuba: From Ally to Enemy," the second lecture in the American Association of University Professors series.

Clay-Mendez, who lived in Cuba until 1961 at which time he was granted political exile by the United States, said, "Cuba has a law for the potential of being dangerous. This means that a policeman can come up to you and say, 'you have the potential of being a troublemaker,' and take you to jail."

A law of normal sexual development was also created by Castro, he said.

"This allows not only prostitutes to be jailed, but also any man who in the eyes of the police may dress too colorfully or walk in a strange manner," he said.

In his lecture, Clay-Mendez also offered a brief summarization of Cuban history.

"Fulgencio Batista was president from 1940 to 1944, but he wanted to continue rather than step down. The people convinced him that he should leave office and he went into exile, but he left a very bitter and unhappy man," he said.

"Batista came back and in 1952 took the government by engineering a bloodless coup d'etat," Clay-Mendez said.

"There were only five people shot, and those were palace guards that didn't want to let Batista back in," he said.

The Batista regime was horribly brutal, he added.

"Thousands of suspected government opponents were subjected to unspeakable forms of torture in order to extract confessions from them," he said.

When Fidel Castro came to power, he closed all private schools and made them a part of the state. "Under Batista, illiteracy was about 20 percent, mostly in the rural areas. Since Castro's rise to power, illiteracy in Cuba has become virtually nonexistent," Clay-Mendez added.

Castro claimed he would not use any more power than that wielded by the president of the United States, he said, adding that Castro did not show any communistic leanings until after he was in office.

However, between 1960 and 1961 he made an alliance with the Soviet Union, Clay-Mendez added.

"For this I will never forgive Fidel Castro," he noted.

Cuba currently is operating under an 85-percent deficit, composed entirely of money owed to the Soviet Union which must be completely paid off by 1986, he said.

"In 1981 alone, Cuba owed Russia $10 billion," he added.

But through Russian support, Cuba has become a powerful military force composed of 125 troops, an 18,000-member navy, a 12,000-member air force, a 500,000-member military reserve and 12 squadrons of MiG 15s and MiG 21s, Clay-Mendez added.

"Cuba is a puppet of the Soviet Union and literally does all its dirty work in such places as Angola and Katanga," he concluded.

Some students receive wrong discount cards

Eastern students who may have mistakenly received a National Student Discount Card from Southern Illinois University-Edwardsville can exchange the card for an Eastern discount card.

Student Senator Meg Hart said Friday some discount cards for SIU-E students had been mixed with cards for Eastern.

Hart said students should check their discount cards to see if they got a card intended for Edwardsville.

Students with SIU-E cards and those who did not receive an Eastern student discount card can pick up a new card at the Student Activities Office.

The cards will be available between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. in the Student Activities Office located on the second floor of the Union addition.

Women's history month events, plans scheduled

by Julie Jackson

The meaning of being a woman in today's society is one of many concepts to be considered during the upcoming Women's History and Awareness Month.

Feb. 24 through March 22 has been designated as the awareness month for Eastern by the Women's Studies Council, Carol Stevens, council secretary, said.

The awareness month will be observed in conjunction with National Women's History Week which begins March 6 and International Women's Day which is celebrated on March 8, she added.

Women's Studies is an academic program centered around the achievements and accomplishments of women and "the purpose for sponsoring this month is to make the faculty, student body, and community more aware of these achievements," Stevens said.

Stevens said, "Women's History is human history. We encourage male participation."

Plans for the awareness and history month began last year, she added.

"We had a lot of cooperation from the theater and English departments, the community, and some students in making contributions to the coming events," Stevens said.

The first event for the month will be a lecture by Diana Slaughter titled "Assessing the Intellectual Competence of Blacks and Women," Stevens said.

Slaughter, an instructor at Northwestern University, will speak at 7:30 p.m. on Feb. 24 in Coleman Hall room 120.

Other events in March will include a concert, poetry reading, a movie, lectures and an awards dinner, Stevens said, adding that most of these events are free.

Council member Camille Compo said she has coordinated a display in Booth Library called "Women of Accomplishment—From the U.S. and Other Countries," which will highlight the work of local women artists.

"One case will have names of women noted for their accomplishments throughout history, such as Susan B. Anthony and Emily Dickinson," Compo said.

The other case will display artwork and information on six or seven outstanding women alumni, she added.

Rape questions to be answered at presentation

Eastern women who are interested in learning how to protect themselves from rape can attend a lecture/workshop Monday night sponsored by the University Board Special Events Committee and Coles County Women Against Rape (CCWAR).

UB Special Events Coordinator Carol Poppeck said the lecture will be an informative one. "It's about time the women on campus learn how to protect themselves and it (the lecture) is the only way I can figure out to do it," said Poppeck, who is also a CCWAR member.

One or two movies will be shown and then a demonstration will be given by three CCWAR members concerning how to prevent rape and what to do if you are raped. Questions will also be answered during the presentation, Poppeck said.

"Women should come dressed casually because we will be giving demonstrations and we will teach them self-defense," Poppeck said. "If they're not wearing a skirt and heels, the audience can then participate if they want to, but they don't have to."

The free lecture will begin at 8 p.m. Monday in the Union Grand Ballroom.

RHA picks 'M*A*S*H' as games theme

by Scott Apland

The television series "M*A*S*H" was chosen as this year's theme for "Almost Anything Goes," committee chairman Jenny West said at the Residence Hall Association meeting Thursday.

West said the "Almost Anything Goes" event, in which teams of on-campus students compete in unusual games, is scheduled for the weekend of April 16.

She said funding for the program will be provided by a donation of $30 from each residence hall. The money will be used for equipment and supplies for the games.

Also at the meeting, RHA members discussed the formation of a new ideas and activities committee through a revision in the RHA constitution.

The new committee would brainstorm to create new events and concepts that would help RHA benefit students on campus, policy committee chairman Joe Wheeler said.

The new committee would address topics including academics, food service and hall improvement as well as hall and campus-wide activities, Wheeler said.

In other business, Feb. 28 has been designated as "RHA Night" at Eastern's home basketball game, John Boyd, chairman of the student athletic committee, said.

Boyd said each student from the hall with the greatest percentage of residents at the game will receive a free pass to the March 5 home game.

In addition, a Big Brother/Big Sister bowling fundraiser is slated for March 20, chairperson Julie Ohm said.

All proceeds will go to the Coles County Big Brother/Big Sister program.

Eastern students display talents

by Vicki Vass

Eastern students displayed their musical talents to please the judges and the audience during Friday's variety show.

Sophomore Diane Anderson took first place in the competition sponsored by Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, Eastern's music fraternity.

Anderson sang "Daybreak," a song popularized by singer Barry Manilow. She received a $100 check for her performance.

"I didn't think I would win. There was beautiful talent here," Anderson said. "I'd never won a talent contest before because I was too nervous and I didn't practice enough. This time I worked very hard."

First runner-up was graduate student Linda Adams, who sang "To Tomorrow," a song about traveling to a town called Morrow. Second runner-up was junior Laurie Hadfield with her version of "Woman in the Moon" from "A Star is Born."

The 12 acts were judged according to stage presence, dress and appearance, personality, interpretation, technique, creativity, tone and overall entertainment value.

Women runners edged by SEMO 55-53

by Mike Lynch

Despite notching more first-place performances the Eastern women's track team dropped a 55-53 decision to visiting Southeast Missouri Saturday.

Eastern received seven first-place finishes and five second-place efforts en route to the Panthers' 53-point total.

Down 55-53, the tracksters' hopes for victory remained alive entering the meet's final event, but when both teams were disqualified in the mile relay, SEMO retained its two-point victory margin.

The Panthers were paced by Gail Stephens, who notched first-place finishes in the 400-meter run (58.0) and the 300-yard dash (36.6).

In addition, Stephens finished second in the 60-yard dash (7.1) behind teammate Sonya Brown (7.0).

Other Panthers with first-place finishes were: Ramona Fowler in the 60-yard hurdles (8.3), Barbro Hines in the high jump (5'4"), Margaret Smith in the 880-yard run (2.19.1) and Gina Sperry in the two-mile (10.25.4).

In addition to Stephens' second-place effort, Panthers Anne Ogle, Margaret Smith, Charmine Carrethers and Renee Johnson also notched second-place finishes.

Men

in the mile.

"Looking at the performances Hudson was definitely the standout," said Moore. "Saturday was probably the best day he has ever had for us."

Moore said other performances that impressed him were turned in by Paul West, Joel McKinney and Roxy Wood.

West notched a third-place finish in the mile (4.17.17) and a fourth-place finish in the 1,000-meter run (2.18.44).

In addition, McKinney placed third in the two-mile (9.22.35) and fourth in the 800-meter run (4.58.2). Wood used a personal best vault of 15'0" to capture fourth place in the pole vault.

Other good performances turned in Saturday included the second-place effort by Tim Warneke in the two-mile (9.20.11) and the third-place effort of Merrill Kaney in the 300-meter run (32.48).

The Panthers find themselves with a busy weekend ahead as they will host the Eastern Illinois Open Invitational at 7 p.m. Friday at Lantz Fieldhouse and compete in the Illini Classic on Saturday.

Track notes...Coach Neil Moore said officials are needed to help in Friday night's meet and requests that interested people contact his office.

Women cagers face Southern Illinois...

by Kathy Leahy

Eastern's women cagers will be aiming to upset the most talented team in the Gateway Collegiate Athletic Conference—Southern Illinois-Carbondale—at 7:30 p.m. Monday in Carbondale, Eastern head coach Bobbie Hilke said.

"SIU has a tremendous team with a lot of talent. We are just going to play the best we can and go for the upset," Hilke said.

"SIU-Carbondale is big and they are fast," she added. "Position for position they are probably the most talented team in the conference."

The Salukis are led by junior center Connie Price, who was previously out with a dislocated finger in her shooting hand, but has returned to Southern's starting lineup.

"Price is a good player with tremendous talent," Hilke noted. "She is leading the nation in field goal shooting percentage (NCAA Division I), so we'll have to watch her."

Price is currently shooting 70.3 percent from the field, averaging 19.2 points a game and is pulling down 8.6 rebounds a contest.

Southern Illinois, which carried a 16-7 record into Saturday night's game against Creighton, also boasts the services of forwards Char Warring and Sue Faber. They are averaging 15.3 and 11 points per game, respectively.

Eastern (18-5), is led by senior Kathy Lanter, who had 18 points against Northeastern Illinois Friday and 16 against Illinois-Chicago Saturday night.

"Kathy has been doing a great job for us. She's been taking charge in situations when we needed someone to take charge," Hilke said.

However, Hilke said she is most impressed with the recent contributions by freshman Melanie Hatfield.

"Mel had 18 points for us one night and 14 the next night this past weekend," Hilke said. "She put in the points when we needed them."

"She drives right to the basket, not caring how much bigger the players underneath the basket are," Hilke added. "She has really blossomed into a good player."

In addition to Lanter and Hatfield, the Panthers will be relying on sophomore Toni Collins for defense and rebounding strength, Hilke noted.

Hilke said she would probably start a lineup with Lanter, a senior, juniors Collins and Beth Sass, and freshmen Hatfield and Susan Hynd.

...as men travel to Southwest Missouri

by Kirby Flowers

Eastern's basketball team will face the conference's surprise team—Southwest Missouri—in an important league battle at 7:30 p.m. Monday in Springfield, Mo.

The Bears, who were picked to finish seventh in the Association of Mid-Continent Universities in a preseason poll, currently hold a 4-1 league mark, placing them second behind Eastern in the AMCU.

The Bears' only conference loss was a 68-67 defeat at the hands of Western Illinois on Southwest Missouri's home court.

The Bears, which carry a 10-12 overall record into the contest with Eastern, are led by forwards Joe Ward and Bobby Howard and guard Anthony Boggs, all of whom average between 12 and 14 points an outing.

In addition, Ricky Johnson, SWMO's 6-foot-9 center, leads the AMCU in blocked shots with 43.

Eastern enters Monday's contest with an 11-14 record and a 7-1 mark in the AMCU. In addition, the Panthers are coming off an 86-74 win over AMCU member University of Illinois-Chicago Saturday.

Eastern head coach Rick Samuels said his league-leading Panthers are right where they want to be and their play will determine their own future.

"We are in the driver's seat in the conference," Samuels said. "We control our own destiny."

"Every time we win a crucial game like the one against Illinois-Chicago, we set up another big game, like the Southwest game," Samuels added.

After a physical contest with Illinois-Chicago, Samuels said his squad will have to adjust to a different style of basketball against the Bears.

"It will be a totally different kind of game against Southwest," Samuels said. "They are not a real big team, so they run a lot of motion offense."

The Panthers said they are hoping the victory over Illinois-Chicago Saturday will provide them with the momentum they need to beat Southwest Missouri.

Panther forward Dirk Androff said, "We knew we had to play hard against Chicago to keep our momentum going for the Southwest game Monday."

Panthers down AMCU rival UI-Chicago 86-74

by Kirby Flowers

Kevin Jones and Dirk Androff paced Eastern's men cagers to an 86-74 league win Saturday over the University of Illinois-Chicago at Lantz Gym.

Jones, who is coming back from a knee injury he suffered Feb. 9, notched 19 points to lead the Panthers offensively. In addition, Androff chipped in 16 markers and pulled down a personal season-high 14 rebounds.

"We wanted the win badly," Eastern head coach Rick Samuels said. "Dirk had a great game for us."

The Panther victory gives Eastern an 11-14 record and a conference-leading 7-1 mark.

The loss dropped Illinois-Chicago, the Association of Mid-Continent Universities' preseason favorite, to 13-10 overall and 5-3 in league play.

Panther guard Doug Crook said, "We proved we're the team to beat in the conference right now. The win tonight should give us more respect in the conference."

However, Samuels did not give all the credit for the win to his team. He said the Eastern fans were a major factor in the Panther victory.

"The crowd was super," Samuels said. "They don't realize how much they help the basketball game."

Crook added, "The fans were great. It is like having a sixth man on the court when you have the crowd behind you. I hope they keep coming for the last two home games."

Illinois-Chicago got its fast break going early in the contest and opened a 10-7 lead with 15:33 remaining in the half. Enter Androff.

Androff went on a seven-point scoring spree to put Eastern on top 14-13 with 13:03 left in the half. However, Illinois-Chicago continued to run on the Panthers and the Flames grabbed their biggest edge, 35-30, with 3:52 to go in the half.

The Panthers battled back with seven unanswered points to lead the Flames 37-35 at the 1:38 mark. But, with only :02 left before intermission, Illinois-Chicago knotted the score at 37-37 and that is how the initial stanza ended.

With the halftime score deadlocked at 37, the final half proved to be the deciding factor in the key conference clash.

"It came down to the second half," Samuels said. "At halftime we talked about how important the win against them would be to us and we came out in the second half and gave everything we had."

Androff said, "We knew we had to go a full 20 minutes. That is the hardest I have worked all year, but the crowd kept us so intense that I don't ever remember getting tired."

Eastern took the challenge in the second half and did a better job in defending against Illinois-Chicago's fast break, Samuels said.

"The whole team got back better in the second half," Samuels noted. "We also contested their inbounds pass so they couldn't get down the court as quickly."

The change in the tempo of the contest helped the Panthers build a 61-52 lead with 11:36 to go in the game. Eastern later took its biggest advantage of the night, 84-67, with 2:03 left.

Men harriers' Magee injured out for season

by Mike Lynch

Eastern's track team showed exceptional effort in the Purdue Invitational Saturday, despite a major setback when Panther sprinter Claude Magee was injured.

Eastern head coach Neil Moore and his Panthers were dealt a severe injury Saturday when Magee pulled a hamstring.

Magee, who was the Panther's best hope for an NCAA qualifier, is expected to miss the remainder of the indoor season, Moore said.

Despite the loss of Magee, Saturday did hold some bright spots for the Panthers with the biggest being the performance of Gary Hudson, Moore noted.

Hudson notched the tracksters' lone first-place finish of the meet in the 1,000-meter run with a time of 2:16.94 and a fifth-place effort

Cagers notch pair of weekend victories

by Kathy Leahy

Senior Kathy Lanter and freshman Melanie Hatfield combined for 66 total points Friday and Saturday, leading Eastern's women cagers to a 81-48 win over Northeastern Illinois and a 64-55 decision over the University of Illinois-Chicago at Lantz Gym.

"Kathy (Lanter) did a super job for us both Friday and Saturday night," Eastern head coach Bobbie Hilke said. "She made baskets in key situations, in situations when we needed them most."

"Kathy has been that person to take charge for us. If we need points, she steps right in. That's what we need out on the floor," Hilke added.

Lanter and Hatfield tied for the team scoring honors Friday, as both cagers tallied 18 points. Lanter led the way against Illinois-Chicago Saturday, scoring 16 points, followed by Hatfield's 14 markers.

"Melanie (Hatfield) has improved so much. She has become one good basketball player," Hilke said. "She, like Kathy, gets the points for us when we really need them."

"Melanie is just driving right to the basket to get those extra points for us and that's great. She is doing a nice job," Hilke added.

In Friday's contest against Northeastern, the Panthers and the Golden Eagles played a close first half, with Eastern leading 30-24 at intermission.

But the second half belonged to Eastern. The Panthers came out of the locker room and took a 36-24 lead with 16:35 remaining on baskets by Darla Farthing and Beth Sass.

Eastern eventually took its biggest lead of the night, 67-34 with 5:47 left in the contest, when Chris Aldridge hit both ends of the one-and-bonus. The Golden Eagles would never threaten again.

Saturday night's game against Illinois-Chicago proved to be a much closer contest. Although Eastern went into the locker room with a 31-20 lead at the half, the Flames rallied to close the gap to 39-34 with 12:17 remaining in the game.

But the Panthers regained their composure and pulled out to a 49-40 lead at the 8:40 mark on a bucket by Aldridge.

However, Illinois-Chicago tried to come back once more, pulling to within 53-50 with 5:35 left in the game. But baskets by Hatfield and Lanter put the Panthers out of the Flames' reach.

"We did not have a lot of control out there for a few minutes. We started to second-guess ourselves and we can't do that," Hilke said.

(See Course Listings for Times, Dates, Instructors, etc.)

New and former students who plan to register for short term credit workshops and/or special courses in Summer School must apply for admission and readmission and submit appropriate academic credentials, if required, at least ten (10) days prior to registering for the short term workshop or special course. Students enrolled in courses on campus and off campus at Eastern spring semester 1983 need not apply for readmission. Students may register for these short term courses on the central registration dates--May 6, 16 for the intersession and June 13, 14 for the eight- and five-week sessions. Students may also register on the first day of the workshop prior to the time the course begins (but no later than 3:30 p.m.) provided that the students have permits to register. Students may also request mail-in registration for workshops only. Students who are not seeking a degree at Eastern Illinois University and are not former Eastern students may apply for admission as a Summer Guest Student. A Summer Guest Student may enroll without submitting official transcripts. For information on admission to summer school, please write to Charles Switzer, Director of Summer School, 210 Old Main, or call (217) 581-2121.

ARTS AND SCIENCE COURSES
The following notes supplement the information given in the schedule.
ARTS AND SCIENCES 3103. HUMANITIES: THE AMERICAN SIXTIES
The course is designed to explore one of the most significant decades in American history, the 1960's, and three of the most important events for which it is remembered--The Civil Rights Movement, the Vietnam War, and the Student Movement which grew out of it all. The purpose is to show how many of America's values were reshaped during that turbulent decade and how many current ideas are traceable to that brief period. Prerequisite: ENG 1002.
ARTS AND SCIENCES 3203. SOCIAL SCIENCE: DOES CRIME PAY?--ECONOMIC ANALYSIS
The course deals with an introduction to the economics of crime. The emphasis will be on developing a consistent framework in which to analyze the problem of crime and develop public policy for dealing with it.
ARTS AND SCIENCES 3303. MATH-SCIENCE: APPLICATIONS OF SOLAR ENERGY
Alternative energy sources such as active solar systems, passive solar systems, wind and photovoltaic solar conversion will be considered in this course. Students can expect a scientific discussion of solar conversion methods and "hands-on" projects in solar technology. No prior college science experience is required.
